

Mass Lead Intoxication From Informal Used Lead Acid Battery Recycling in Dakar, Senegal

Pascal Haefliger, Monique Mathieu-Nolf, Stephanie Lociciro, Cheikh Ndiaye, Malang Coly, Amadou Diouf, Absa Lam Faye, Aminata Sow, Joanna Tempowski, Jenny Pronczuk,
Antonio Pedro Filipe Junior, Roberto Bertollini, Maria Neira

Supplemental Material

Figure 1: Transport, sieving and packaging of lead-contaminated soil in Thiaroye sur Mer in February 2008. Credit: Awa Ndoye Fall

Figure 2: Lead particulate soil packed into bags in Thiaroye sur Mer in February 2008. Credit: Awa Ndoye Fall

Figure 3: Open bags of lead-contaminated soil (bottom left) dumped behind the market place of the NGagne Diaw neighbourhood of Thiaroye sur Mer, June 2008. Credit: Pascal Haeffliger

Figure 4: Children playing with lead-contaminated sandy soil in the NGagne Diaw neighbourhood of Thiaroye sur Mer, June 2008. Credit: Pascal Haeffliger